

I fully support this petition, RM-10783, in requesting the Commission to eliminate all references to, and requirements for, Morse code proficiency testing in the Amateur Radio Service rules. The need for Morse code testing has been eliminated and, based on discussions and comments received in 1999, the FCC should immediately eliminate Element 1 testing as a requirement for Amateur Radio Operator licenses of all classes.